

Washington Post says its newsroom didn't vet flier seeking conference business (Minneapolis-St. Paul)

Contributed by Webmaster
Saturday, 04 July 2009
Last Updated Saturday, 04 July 2009

More info...

NEW YORK - The Washington Post asked lobbyists and business leaders to pay $25,000 to attend a dinner discussion with government officials and journalists at the home of its publisher, and then canceled the event after the invitations became public.

Couple helps troops phone home (The Carrollton Leader)

When Janice and Charles Wood decided to participate in Cell Phones for Soldiers, they originally only planned to collect cell phones in their lobby of their Carrollton funeral home business from Memorial Day to the 4th of July.

National Association of Home-Based Business Moms Celebrates Independence Day By Giving Away Free Copies of Book: The ... (PRWeb via Yahoo! News)

The National Association of Home-Based Business Moms (NAHBM) has announced it is giving away free copies of the book, The Career-at-Home Mom:

Home Business

{mos_sb_discuss:2}